I rate this book 5 stars and whilst all of Jacqueline Wilson's books have all been brilliant and I am her biggest fan, this is the best Jacqueline Wilson book I've ever read!

I really enjoyed 'Clover Moon' as although it was sad at times it had a happy ending!

The book is about a girl called Clover Moon, whose stepmother is unkind and one day she plans to run away to find Miss Smith, a lady that helps young unwanted or neglected women. The book follows Clover's adventures and her time in Miss Smith's refuge.

My favourite character was Mr Dolly because he was really kind to Clover and helped her when she was in trouble. My favourite part of the book was when Clover went to find Miss Smith because it was described really well.

I particularly liked the description of Mr Dolly's dolls, it formed a wonderful picture in my mind and made me want to pick one up!

Amusingly, Clover meets Hetty Feather, one of the authors' characters from a previous book.

'Clover Moon' is about a girl who lives in a small cramped house with her other siblings and her stepmother who makes her do virtually everything and if Clover doesn't her step-mother will beat her. When it gets bad at home she hides out in her friend Mr Dolly's shop and helps him make dolls. It all goes wrong and she decides to seek refuge at an all-girls children.

This book is like an eye catching gem, nice and shiny on the outside with the amazing raw material on the inside. The plot was great, really smooth and blended together really well. It is the Hetty Feather next generation.

Ava Sorrell, age 10

Clover is an eleven year old Victorian girl who lives with her father, her sister Megs and her step brothers and sisters: Jenny, Mary, Pete, Richie and baby Bert. When she babysits her neighbour's children, things take a turn for the worst...

Now, with no Megs, Clover depends on her best friend Mr Dolly to help and accompany her. But just knowing him gets Clover into trouble. So will she be able to cope? Will she ever be happy again?

'Clover Moon' is a sad, touching and exciting story by the marvellous Jacqueline Wilson.

This is definitely going to be another of Jacqueline Wilson's bestsellers. I loved the character Clover Moon.

Clover Moon lives with her stepmother Mildred, her father and her six brothers and sisters. She doesn't like it there though. When she hears of a place that she could go to, can she have the courage to leave everything she used to know behind?

This is without doubt one of the best books I've ever read! Jacqueline Wilson is a very good author!

My favourite character is Clover because she is so brave and kind. She can deal with almost anything. My second favourite character was Sissy because she is so loyal to Clover.

The descriptions in this book are amazing and they really helped me to picture the story in my head. Jacqueline Wilson is very imaginative and that's what makes this book so good. Without ALL of the characters this book wouldn't be complete. They make it all seem so realistic.

My favourite part was when Clover went to the tearoom.

I would recommend this book to fans of Jacqueline Wilson's books as well as other people who like adventure books. Age wise I would recommend it for ages 9+.

Overall this is a brilliant book!

Matilda Greenacre, age 10

I love this book and would recommend it to Hetty Feather fans.

This book is about a young girl called Clover who has a brutal stepmother. Her father follows her lead and never protects her. Clover plays with the ally children and looks up to Mr Dolly until one day when everything changes...

*I would definitely recommend this book. If you like the Hetty Feather series you will definitely enjoy the tale of 'Clover Moon'.

Evie Aconley, age 9

The book is set in Victorian times, I really enjoyed it although it can be a little sad at times. Her imagination is fun and interesting.

This book is a little sad but I still enjoyed reading it as the girl Clover has a wonderful imagination and artistic talent which helps her through the sad and difficult times she has. Jacqueline Wilson does a great job of making you believe you are there with Clover in Victorian London. I think this book would be suitable for children aged 10-14.

Maddy Harries, age 9

This story is so sad and moving but exciting at the same time. I couldn't put it down!

The fantastic story of Clover Moon as she ventures to find a new home away from her cruel and unkind stepmother, Mildred. I loved this book because I really enjoyed reading about the Victorian times in the Hetty Feather series. I thought Clover was very adventurous and courageous and I loved it when she finally got to Miss Smith's institute. My favourite characters are Clover Moon, Megs (Clover's only sister), Hetty Feather, Mr Dolly, Miss Smith (who owns the institute and is also an author), and Mary-Anne.

If you've read the Hetty Feather series then you will love this book! But you don't have to have read about Hetty Feather to enjoy this wonderful book because it's an adventure all by itself!

Rosie, age 9

Another brilliant book from Jacqueline Wilson. I loved Clover. She had a hard life and it was quite sad but she was determined to make it better. I so want her to have a good life. This is a good book by Jacqueline Wilson. It is quite long and took me a while to get into but then I loved it. Clover had a sad life but she wanted to make it better and she tried her best. A really good book.

Emily Pitfield, age 11

Clover Moon is a character you can fall in love with. Her determination and creative flair make for a great character and a well written story.

Clover moon was an exciting and imaginative novel all about a creative and cunning young girl living in Victorian London. I really liked the sparkiness of Clover's character and her determination to be successful. The book was well written and fast paced, once I got into the story it was hard to stop.

Sadie Parker, age 11

A thrilling story that really captures the life of a poor girl in Victorian Britain.

The riveting tale of her and her adventures through London after taking a big risk. She ventured out of the ragged street she called home to find a better future for herself and in the end all ends well. Though the struggle to get to the finish line was more than difficult. But with her special friends help she finds the strength to carry on to the end.

Elena Corsan, age 11

Have fun with Clover Moon and all her funny friends, watch out for mean, old Mildred. This book was full of sad and happy moments, a real page turner. I couldn't put it down.

I hope with all my heart that Jaqueline Wilson brings out a sequel. It was like a massive roller coaster ride filled with everything and more. At one point it actually made me cry but the next minute I was smiling my face off. My favourite character by far was Clover Moon as she was funny, happy and full of bravery. I like how Jaqueline used old characters in the story. Clover Moon is a bright, colourful person with a good vibe and I hope she appears in future books.

Jessica Cobbin, age 9

'Clover Moon' is a really exciting book. But children should be careful reading this book as it is such a sad story. I stayed up really late reading this book. I started it at half past seven when I went to bed and next time I looked at the clock it was twenty past nine, and I thought goodness, is that the time already? I think this is a book for older Jacqueline Wilson fans and a good one to try if you haven't read her books before.

Elsbeth, age 12

'Clover Moon', is a tragic, exciting and interesting novel. It is about Clover, a girl who wants to escape her past and see what future lies ahead of her.

'Clover Moon' by Jacqueline Wilson is a tragic, exciting and interesting novel. It is about Clover, a girl who wants to escape her past and see what future lies ahead of her. The story follows her as she journeys away from home trying to ignore the fact that her siblings might not be coping and her stepmother might be following her.

I have read most of Jacqueline Wilson's novels and this is my favourite. However, I think that sensitive readers might not cope with all the drama at the very start of the book. Because of this I recommend the book for ages 10+. Altogether it is a really great book and a worthwhile read.
