Below are the complete reviews, written by the LoveReading4kids members.

Edith and Ceci, age 4 and 2.5

Great book. Lovely pictures with tons to spot. Great for little ones and my 4 year old enjoyed sounding out the words.

We have just had a fabulous story time reading 'Happy Hatchday'. Both children and mummy loved it.

Firstly we really liked the illustrations. Edith really liked the patterns on the eggs. Both girls decided that Nancy was their favourite dinosaur because they liked her eyelashes. We had a good giggle at Martin who never seems to fully make it out of his egg.

The illustrations were particularly lovely for Ceci who is just learning about colours so we had fun asking her to point out the different coloured dinosaurs. Edith 4, particularly loved the heart shaped balloon. As a musician, I particularly liked the musical instrument page and was very pleased it featured our favourite dinosaurs.

*Really lovely book which is sure to be a firm favourite in our house.

Abidah & Amatullah Khatun, age 2 & 8

We'll definitely be looking out for more of Rob Biddulph's books. His illustrations are so cute and vibrant, and this story was fun.

My two year old daughter, Abidah, was so excited to receive her 'Dino' book that she pulled the curtain pole off while waiting for the postman. When it arrived she loved the colourful and cute illustrations of Greg(osaur). The rhyming text was a delight to read and held Abidah's attention throughout.

All but one of nine eggs hatch and so when Greg finally appears a whole week later he feels left out. All the other hatchlings have paired up and are busy doing activities such as painting and baking. Greg is feeling so sad for himself when a little dragonfly arrives and lets him in on a secret.

Abidah loved 'Happy Hatchday', especially as she's obsessed about birthdays and dinosaurs recently and this book has fuelled her obsession. It's nice when dinosaurs are portrayed as cute creatures as my eldest daughter was scared of dinosaurs when she was little.

Aidan and Milo, age 6 & 2

A lovely story about nine dinosaurs hatching and beginning to explore their world.

Aidan, age 6

*This was all about dinosaurs being born and hatching. They all have funny names. Martin is my favourite. He's the funniest because all you see is his legs poking out! They all like to do different things but Gregosaurus doesn't know what to join in with. It's ok though because they are making him a brilliant surprise! It was really funny and I loved it all.

Milo, age 2

I liked funny dinosaurs eating cakes and dancing. I want to read again.

Aidan and Milo's Mum, Sarah

This was an instant favourite with my six-year-old and two-year-old. A lovely set of dinosaur characters, a simple to follow, but amusing rhyme, bright and interesting pictures, with lots of detail to examine and enjoy.

This was equally appealing to both ages as they could both understand the story and there was so much to look at. My eldest appreciated the rhyming and the more subtle details, as well as being able to read most of it. Great to read a book that captivated them both, especially as they both love dinosaurs. This is certain to become an incredibly popular book. We will definitely be looking out for more in the series.

Elissa Watkin, age 5

Happy Hatchday is a lovely story that is exciting and fun. The pictures are funny and bright. Elissa has read the story over and over again and really enjoys it.

Happy Hatchdays is an excellent book and I think this book is sad and then makes you happy. The story is exciting and then in the end it has a really happy surprise ending. I love the pictures and the way it rhymes.

Boys and girls would love this story and it will be good for 3, 4 and 5 year olds.

Willam, age 6

Wonderful colourful book with a text that almost has a beat to it. We love Dinosaur Juniors - HAPPY HATCHDAY GREGASAURUS!!

We are massive fans of all of Rob's books and were really looking forward to reviewing his new offering. We were not disappointed. The pictures as usual are beautiful and the story is wonderful. Rob always puts the right amount of humour in to keep the adults interested in reading his books and this is no different. Can't wait for the others!
