This is a page turner.

At first, I could not quite get into this book but the more I read it, the more absorbed into it I got. I enjoyed this book, and it is perfect for people who like animals and mysteries.

This book is about a girl called Kat Wolfe. Her mother is a vet, Dr Ellen Wolfe. When they move to a seaside veterinary surgery, Kat starts her own pet sitting company called Paws and Claws.

As she is pet sitting, Kat and her new friend Harper, who is very good at hacking into things, get caught up in a murder mystery...can they solve the crime?

I give this book 8/10 - bit tricky to begin with but definitely worth reading. A good mystery novel for ages 10 and up.

I found this book a bit tricky to begin with and a bit slow but once you get further through the book it really rewards you by giving you a really good story that is action packed funny and also quite caring. I found it a bit complicated to follow the plot of the story but again nearer the end it begin to become clear. I'd rated this book 8/10 and a good read for children aged 10 and up. My favourite character was the cat Tiny because although he's called Tiny he's a tiger like cat and I don't just mean in predatory instinct! The book is about a curious girl with a mother who is a vet who moves to a new crime free town when the largest crime ever committed was the theft of a pumpkin!! It follows a this girl and her friend trying to follow a mysterious story.

Jemima Buttlings, age 10

Police...Nuh, uh! We've got Kat!

This is a thrilling, exciting mystery story for anyone, especially those who love animals, detectives, or both together! Police...? Nah, who needs them?!

Bella, age 11

Fantastic book I've really enjoyed reading it. I love the suspense that builds during reading it.

I really enjoyed reading this book, although it's hard to follow in some places. I love the twists it makes it so much fun to read. I like Kat and Harpers characters. Harper is brilliant at hacking computers whilst Kat is brave. I found this book really exiting and had to continue reading to find out what would happen.

This book is great for animal lovers and those who love mysteries age 9+

Kat, who is 12, has a thing for animals as her mum is a vet. After a burglary at her home, Kat and her mum move to an idyllic seaside location, Bluebell Bay. Because of her love for animals she starts a pet-sitting business. She looks after a parrot whose owner is in terrible danger. Someone wanted him dead... Harper and Kat have to save him before it's too late. But who will believe them that Ramon is wanted dead?

A gripping good book with many twists and turns. The most unexpected is not the innocent. I loved this book as it was mysterious. When I saw the front cover and back cover of the book I was mesmerised and intrigued. It told me very little about the book so I wanted to read on and I do not regret it. I hope there are more Wolfe & Lamb mysteries.

Kat Wolfe, the heroine of this story along with Harper, is a kind and loving friend and pet-sitter. Her mystery-solving skills was a shock for someone who had never been involved in an investigation before. I really enjoyed this book.

A great really couldn't put it down. full of adventure a mystery. Hope to read more about Kat in the future!

Kat Wolfe Investigates is about when she moves to the country and starts her own pet-sitting company. Kat is always seeking for adventure and mystery, But the only mystery that has ever happen was the mystery of the missing pumpkin. Following trails of clues more thrilling adventures occur. I really enjoyed this book because i could never put it down and and it was so exciting. I would rate it 9 out of 10! I would like Lauren to write another sequel.

Alexander Bisland, age 12

If you like stories about animals, mystery and crime then this book is good for you.

Kat and her mum, the local vet, live in London but after a break-in in their home, they decide it is time to move. They move to idyllic Bluebell Bay on the Jurassic Coast. When Kat starts a pet-sitting agency to get pocket money, something bad happens! Her first client goes missing! This leads to many more problems!

Even worse, no-one believes her apart from Harper Lamb, her new best friend and second client!

Can the mystery-solving duo crack the case?

Read the book to find out!

I recommend this book to 8+ and give it 5*. I couldn't put it down!

I think this is a great book and I would give it five stars. Although it was a very good book, I think it would be more suitable for younger readers, around 7-10. The storyline was very well thought out and fitted together perfectly at the end. It was definitely a mystery and made me want to read more to find out what happened.

I think this is a good book, but I think it goes on for a bit to long, and the mystery doesn't start until later. I rate this 2 stars.

To be completely honest, I didn't like this book as much as I had hoped. It's a very good book, but I think it goes on for a bit too long and the mystery doesn't start until around the middle of the story. I rate this 2 stars but I think other people might like it more than me. Kat Wolfe and her mum find a new job in a veterinary in a quiet town on the coast called Bluebell bay. Soon, a mystery uncovers and she finds herself solving a real mystery... I rate this book 2 stars, as I said above, and readers 10+ or with parental guidance can read it. I hope other people might enjoy it. Rachelreadit.co.uk

I loved this book so much it took me quite a long time reading it but maybe that's just me:-)

This is a really cool mystery book about a girl named Kat who seeks for a mystery. When she and her Mum get robbed in her small house in London, she moves to Bluebell Bay in Dorset. But when A mysterious bird watcher comes with his strange parrot, Kat's life is about to get a lot more crazy...
