

LoveReading4kids Reader reviews of

Teacup House: Meet the Twitches

by Hayley Scott

Illustrated by Pippa Curnick

Below are the complete reviews, written by the LoveReading4kids members.

Elissa Watkin, age 5

'Meet the Twitches' is a great book for younger readers who are starting to become free readers. A charming tale that has a lovely ending.

I like Meet the Twitches' book because it is about some toy rabbits who come alive when no one is looking.

My favourite character is Stevie the girl who looks after the Twitches.

I think this book would be good for 4 - 6 year old girls and boys.

It is a good story with a very happy ending. One of the twitches fell out of Stevie's bag and go missing and his family look for him in the story.

Amatullah Khatun, age 7

In 'Meet the Twitches' a girl called Stevie is not happy about moving to the countryside even though she'll be closer to her dad. Before they leave for the new house her Nanny Blue drops by with a very special present—a giant sized teacup home to the Twitches, a family of toy rabbits. There's a mum, dad, sister and brother. Stevie loves her present but before she can play with it properly she loses Father Twitch during the house move!

This is such an adorable story which will delight younger readers. Amatullah whizzed through this story and thoroughly enjoyed it, especially the bit about how Father Twitch was rescued.

*The delightful illustrations by Pippa Curnick made us want to dive in to the book straight away. We hope the adorable and adventurous Twitches are back in another sweet tale soon.

Prisha Yadav, age 8

Fantastic Book for everyone to read.

I enjoyed reading this book as Stevie was an emotional girl. The book shows how she copes with moving home and I can relate to this.

*Nanny blue gave her a beautiful teacup house with four tiny toy rabbits, 'The Twitches' for her house move. I like the fictional characters of these Twitches. My favourite Twitch was Silver, as she was adventurous and had exciting ideas to rescue her dad. I also loved going through the beautiful illustrations in this book which made it very interesting and brought the characters to life.

Huxley Glen, age 7

A very good book about these funny little characters. I really like the illustrations of the characters in the book and it made the story even easier to follow.

What a delightful book this was, it was a great fun read following the adventures of these characters. It is an easy read and was easy to follow. The book was filled with lovely illustrations that really helped to bring the characters to life. I hope there are many more books in this series so we can see what they get up to next.

Eleanor Haines, age 5 and mum

*We received this lovely, charming book to review. Eleanor, my 5 year old, read the majority of this book by herself at bedtime with just a bit of help with tough words. She read it in two nights so I think it's safe to say she enjoyed it.

Here's what she has to say:

I like this book. MY favorite part is when Stevie opened her present. I did not like the spider. I really loved the drawings and I could read most of the book on my own. I would recommend my friends to read this book.

I would give this book 4 out of 5'

Abbie Collings, age 5

Stevie is given a set of toy rabbits by her Nanny that come alive when she is not looking. They have a fun adventure that you will love to read about!

This is a story about a girl who is moving house. Her granny, Nanny Blue, gives her a teacup house and 4 rabbits that live in it. Then one of the rabbits gets lost and they can't find him. When no one is looking the rabbits come alive. Read this story to find out if Daddy Gabriel rabbit makes it back to the teacup house safely without anyone seeing him.

This is a good adventure book and we really liked the pictures and the story.

This is the first book about the Twitches and I would look forward to reading more of them.

Abbie's Mum

The pictures and the colourful design of the pages together with short chapters and appealing characters really helped Abbie to understand and follow the story well. We enjoyed this book. It was a perfect length to maintain concentration for a chapter a day. We will be looking out for more tales form the Teacup House

Sam and Jack Radford, age 7 and 5

It was fantastic - we thought it was adventurous and magical fun. A beautiful story for all the family of innocent childhood fun.

We really liked this lovely book. The bunnies were magic because they seemed real and got up to so much mischief. The illustrations are also beautiful - we would like teacup house set like this!

You can follow Sam and Jack's mum, Emma on Twitter: @EmmaRadford4

Edith Andrews, age 4

Lovely story and perfect to read aloud. Edith was always desperate to know what was going to happen next. Beautiful, bright illustrations.

I read this aloud to my 4 year old over a period of five nights and we both really enjoyed it. The book layout is fantastic. Loads of different fonts, lists, spacing which kept my daughter entertained. She is just learning to read, and enjoyed sounding out the words in bold print...jump, boom, bump, ouch, thwack etc. The illustrations are also absolutely brilliant. Lovely, bold and bright colours. We both particularly loved the pictures of the garden and the hairy spider.

The story had just the right amount of magic and adventure. There are few things better than seeing a child excited by a book and each night we stopped reading, Edith really wanted to find out what was going to happen next. Edith really loved the heroine, Silver. She was very impressed that the little girl rabbit rescued her daddy. 'She is very brave, grown up and clever.'

<https://wordpress.com/post/mecapture.blog/831>

Ellen, age 8

I love rabbits so I couldn't wait to read this book. The cover is very appealing and the pictures in the book are colourful and make you want to read on. The book tells the story of Daddy Rabbit's (Gabriel Twitch) going missing.

This book is about a girl called Stevie who receives a present of a teacup house that has furniture and rabbit characters to play with. She is moving to the countryside and isn't keen on moving, so is pleased to get this present. As arrives and walks along the garden path to the new house, with the teacup, one of the rabbits falls out onto the ground. Stevie doesn't realise it is missing until later....and little does she know that these rabbits come alive. The book tells the story of how Daddy (Gabriel Twitch) is reunited with his family. It really is an adventure!

Genevieve Pollock, age 8 - Red Maid's Junior School

Good for adventurous children.

This book is a story book about this girl called Stevie. She has a Nanny Blue, who gives her a teacup house with toy rabbits called Fig, Mama Bo, Silver and Gabriel that come to life when she isn't looking! The rabbits all need to find the daddy rabbit, where is he?

Stevie has to move house, but she does not want to. She wants to stay in her flat but her mum tells her it will be okay. I thought the book was good but maybe it could use more suspense.

It is suitable for 6-8 is the best age group I would say, because it would be easy to read. This book would be good for adventurous children. I would give the book a 4 out of 5 rating, because it was quite good but maybe some more wow, would be make it great.

You can follow Red Maid's School on Twitter: @redmaidshigh