

LoveReading4kids Reader reviews of Squishy McFluff: The Invisible Cat! by Pip Jones & Illustrated by Ella Okstad

Below are the complete reviews, written by LoveReading4kids members.

Sam Harper, age 10

Ava is an ordinary girl with an extraordinary invisible cat. Squishy McFluff and Ava have great fun together but they make a very naughty pair. There's the jungle in the bathroom and the newts in her mum's best boots and no one but Ava knows which end of Squishy to stroke! Can her mum convince Squishy to leave or even just to behave?

*This short, rhyming story sounds great read aloud. Ava and Squishy make a mischievous and very funny team. I loved the illustrations which made Ava look charming and innocent and made Squishy look almost invisible. A lovely story which is made even better by the clever combination of rhyme and illustrations. Glorious!

Isaac East, age 7

Squishy McFluff is a funny book that rhymes. The cat is cheeky and with her friend Ava they of lots of mischievous things.

Although it is 70 pages long it is really quick to read because it is written more like a poem rather than a story book with lots of chapters.

The illustrations were amazing and exactly like I imagined the characters to be.

If you like to read stories that are really quick to read and love cats you would enjoy this book. I think boys and girls would like this book.

Evie Aconley, age 7

A really fun book to read! I loved it!!

This was a great book to read, it was written in rhyme and I really enjoyed it. The drawings were fun and worked well with the story. It was very funny and I really enjoyed reading it. I am looking forward to reading more about Squishy McFluff.

Lauren Randall, age 6

Great book if you like rhyming stories and cats.

The best bit of the book is the wonderful imaginary world of cats, but I didn't like it because I don't really like cats. It would have been much better if it was about dogs. Dogs are my favourite.

Daniel Bisland, age 6

This book is about a girl called Ava and her invisible cat Squishy.

As soon as the cat arrives, they get into lots of MISCHIEF like spilling dad's whisky, drawing on the curtains, putting newts in mum's boots and making a jungle in the bath!!!!

Who's being naughty? You will find out in the book.

I give it 10* because it is funny. I love the colourful pictures. I wish it was longer though! I can't wait for Supermarket Sweep.

I recommend it to 5+ if they are reading it with mummy and daddy or good readers age 6+.

Ophelia Robinson Beesley, age 7

It has happiness and comedy but slight sadness in the middle but it is not too sad. Anyway Pip Jones has created a loving family of characters no reason to not enjoy. Especially suitable for bed time.

As I said Pip Jones has created some very interesting characters. The invisible cat is something to get into a happy imaginative sleep if you read it at bedtime. It is funnily enough suitable for adults too. I really enjoyed it so I predict you will enjoy it way more than I did. SO GET READING AND ENJOY!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Toby Pickering, age 7

It was a very interesting story full of adventure and you think her mum isn't going to like Squishy, well you're right!

This book is about a girl who has found an invisible cat in the garden while she was playing. Her mum and dad didn't like the cat who was named Squishy Mcfluff. They had an idea to make the cat not to be naughty. The idea was to make her Nan train the cat. Her Nan knew a lot about cats.

I would give this book a ten out of ten and recommend this book to all my friends.

Emma, age 7

I loved this book, it makes me want an invisible cat of my own. I could read this easily on my own, but the story made me think about what my invisible cat would look like. The story was good and lots of fun.

Matilda Greenacre, age 7

This is a great book for early readers or mums to read to their children. The whole book is written in rhyme, lovely for reading out loud.

This book is about Ava and her invisible cat, who is very naughty. Its a short book written in rhyme, and is very fun to read. The illustrations are cute and compliment the story. This is a great book for children who like cats.
