I love this book. It's adventurous and funny at the same time, if I had to give it a score out of 10 I would give it a straight 10.

At the start of the story I didn't think much of it but then I got really interested in the story and turned out to really enjoy it. I hope that other people will think the same as I do about the story. So come and grab this book to have a little read.

Melissa Mapondera, age 9

This is an interesting story, because it tells you how to train animals and how to love them. On the inside all they need is love and attention. It was very easy to read and follow because I really felt the feelings of the characters; the writer's words really touched me. I liked the book which was very adventurous. I would definitely recommend it to everyone especially animal-lovers.

Aarav Mehta, age 7

*This book is the sort of book you'll be unable to put down. In each and every chapter you will be left on a cliffhanger which will glue you to the book. The story is full of happiness, laughter and mystery. So get started now.

Evie Aconley, age 9

This book is really nice to read, better than I had expected it to be.

I really enjoyed reading this book and it had a good sense of humour, I found this book really fun and relaxing to read. I really liked reading about the warthog called Monday and the silly things he did like rolling around in the mud, having a bath then rolling around in the mud again! I was hoping for more of a story about the cat but I still enjoyed the story and would like to read more books like this.

Annabelle Cassidy, age 7

A brilliant adventure book, so good I read it all in one day. Fab book if you like animals, and adventures.

This book was the most exciting book I have ever read. I couldn't put it down once I started it.

Tiger Days is a young girl who goes to live with her Grandmother at Willowgate House. Her Grandmother has recently moved into Willowgate from Africa, and has no furniture yet, so Tiger Days has to sleep in big tent in the garden.

A couple of weeks after she moves in a man comes from the zoo brings her grandmother a surprise to look after. This is where the adventure begins, learning how to look after it.

I would recommend this book for boys and girls aged 7 up.

Madison Chaplin, age 8

There is a girl called Tiger and Tiger goes to her grandmother's house and she meets a boy called Tom. In the book, Tom and Tiger finds a mysterious cat at Willowgate. They name the mysterious cat Holly, and Tom gets two tins and puts string in the middle of them. They called it the Tin-a-phone. Now they can speak through it, the string goes to Tom's bedroom. Tiger had a pet from Dennis. She named it Monday. Tom helps Tiger look after the warthog

(Monday.)

The main characters are Tiger, Tom and May Days (Tigers grandmother.) My favourite part is when Tiger was drawing a picture of a Tiger, because the colours are nice. My favourite character is Tiger, because she is a nice and kind girl.

I loved all of this book.

I would say the best age of this book would be 7+, because the language is not too hard.

I would like to read another book by this author.

I loved this book, because I like the type of book it is. I think girls and boys would like this type of book.

Lewis Briggs, age 9

Wonderful, magnificent, stupendous. This is an outstanding book. The author must be creative, imaginative and clever to come up with this idea and I can't wait to get the second book when it comes out, and I shall recommend these to my friends.

Caitlin Hill, age 9

Tiger, warthog, cat and Tom. After reading this book I want to have a warthog as a pet.

A lovely book about a girl called Tiger who goes to stay with her grandma for the holidays. She learns to train a warthog, makes friends with a cat and the boy next door, Tom, who is staying with his grandad for the holidays. They have lots of fun looking after the warthog and teaching it how to be a warthog! And on top of it all they are camping in her grandma's garden because the house is not finished yet. Very exciting!

Beatrice Whithear, age 8

Tiger Days is the name of a 9 year old girl. The book is about her stay at her grandmothers and the animals she helps to look after there and the friends she meets.

I found this book an enjoyable read, there is some great characters and I found it easy to picture them. May Days is a great Granny to have, teaching Tiger how to look after animals.

The baby Warthog made me laugh as she always seems to escape. It's lovely to read how Tiger's view changes about the Wartie as she wasn't very keen when she first arrived.

The white cat who arrives, sort of looks out for Tiger and knows what she is thinking. It's like she is looking out for Tiger.

The book was a great read, however I wasn't sure if I liked all the 'days' in the names. Sometimes I found it a little bit confusing.

I'm looking forward to reading the next book though, so will be looking out for it in August.

I would give this book 8/10

'Tiger Days and the Secret Cat' is full of wild adventures, magical mysteries and a strong bond between two best friends and a warthog!

*Well, where do I begin? Tiger Days and the secret cat is full of wild adventures, magical mysteries and a strong bond between two best friends and a warthog!! As soon as I had read the first page, I was hooked. I read it in one day I was so intrigued. In conclusion I recommend this book to ANYBODY! I loved this book!

I really enjoyed this book. I really can't think of a favourite part of it as I loved it all!!

Cassandra Butler, age 7

I think everyone should read this book as it's so adventurous!

Tiger (a little girl) is the main character and she goes to stay with her Grandmother who looks after animals.

Tiger and her Grandmother are sleeping in a tent in the garden when the boy next door called Tom (who was hiding the bushes) comes out and says hello. Together Tiger and Tom have lots of fun including finding a fluffy white cat!

My favourite bit was when, to Tiger's surprise another guest arrived – a Warthog (Wartie) and she got to name it.

Their story is really about making and having friends and I really enjoyed it.

I'm 7 and I managed to read this book all on my own with no problems.

Charlotte Killen, age 4

I really liked this story. I really enjoyed reading 'Tiger Days' with my Mum and brother. Tiger Days is a little girl who loves Tigers but is quite shy. She likes to draw and is very nervous to go and stay with her Grandmother who she doesn't really know. She soon makes a friend and helps a wartie that her Grandmother has rescued. She discovers a secret cat and soon starts to become braver and braver. This is a really nice book, there is only one tiny bit that was a bit scary and I really enjoyed the story
