This book is about class 2R in WigglesBottom Primary and the book has 3 stories. I'm going to tell you about 'The Curse of the Itchy Carpet!' Class 2R did show and tell and Bobby brought in a weird box which said Danger, Beware and DO NOT OPEN! Then Sunita opened it before Bobby could give it to the teacher AND during storytime the Curse CAME ALIVE! All the children were itching here and there, they were itching everywhere and the teacher especially was itching her bum!

Was the curse real?

Did the teacher stop itching her bum?

You'll have to read this hilarious, funny book.

I like this book because it's got cool illustrations and 3 laugh out loud stories.

I recommend it to ages 6-7 early readers.

I give it 101/100.

Becka Moor and Pamela Butchart - please write more books in the series as I love them!

This book made me giggle. I wish I could go to Wigglesbottom Primary, although I would not want to meet the toilet ghost!

There are three funny stories in this book. One about a toilet ghost, one about a smelly magical shoe and the last one about a box with an ancient curse. My favourite story was about the toilet ghost. My school doesn't have a toilet ghost but I can imagine how funny that would be. I wish Wigglesbottom Primary was real and I would sure love to go there!

This book is really fun and made me and my mum and sister laugh. It is three short stories all about children at school.

This book is really fun and made me and my mum and sister laugh. It is three short stories all about children at school and my best was 'The Toilet Ghost'. My favourite part in the story was when it was dinner time and they couldn't have a drink because then they would need the toilet and then they would have to see the toilet ghost but they had had curry and their mouths were hot and spicy! This bit was really funny. My favourite character was Irfan because he likes football.

I would like to read another book about Wigglesbottom Primary and I would give this book 9 out of 10. My mum and my sister (aged 9) thought this was a really funny book too!

Wigglesbottom Primary: The Toilet Ghost is very funny and quite silly.

There are three stories in one book, all set in one school. The first one is about some children who think there's a ghost in the toilets, when actually it's not a ghost but something else, which I'm not going to tell you. The second story is about a magic show where someone takes his shoe off and makes everyone think that it tells you the future. The last story is about this creature crawling all over them making them itch, and in the end it tells you who's to blame. I think the illustrations are very good and all the children look very different. I recommend this book to people who like pictures and like funny books. I would love to read more stories about Wigglesbottom Primary.

I loved this story- it was hilarious and fun to read. I loved the part where Mr Harris was wearing clothes from the "I-had-an-accident" box. Some of the characters reminded me of some of my friends from school. It had me laughing from beginning to end.

Erica, age 8

The Toilet Ghost was really funny. The children were all believing in The Toilet Ghost. But was there really one? My favourite bit is when the headteacher needs to wear his spare clothes as he had an accident. Read to find out more about this very good story!

'The Stinky Shoe of Fortune' is a genius story because the boy actually cheats as there isn't one. I really enjoyed the part where the boy told the truth.

'The Curse of the Itchy Carpet' is a hilarious story that made me laugh out loud. The most exciting piece was when everybody was itching and the ant bit the teacher's butt. This was the best of all three!

This was read by my 8 year old (Bethany) in about 20 mins but also read to my 5 year old (Becca) who enjoyed it. She also had a go at reading the first few pages to gauge if she felt able or read it. She managed well but obviously didn't know all the words but didn't feel too over faced by it. I would say that the reading level is similar to the early reader 'Horrid Henry' or 'Daisy Meadows' books with a few harder words thrown in.

*In their own words: It was very funny and had good illustrations. Most of the things in it were realistic so it would be easy to imagine. Boys would definitely like it as well as girls. It would be suitable for age 7-9 (although Becca enjoyed it being read to her as a story and said it was good because it was funny and silly). We could imagine it being read aloud to a class in KS1 as a funny before home time story too.

A collection of three brilliantly funny short stories set in the anything-can-happen Wigglesbottom Primary. I loved it!

'Wigglesbottom Primary – The Toilet Ghost' is a collection of three brilliantly funny short stories following the adventures of the pupils at the anything-can-happen Wigglesbottom Primary. Gavin runs out of the toilets completely soaked and claiming it's the work of a toilet ghost. Could this be true? Miles' smelly shoe appears to be able to tell the future but is it just a trick? It looks like the story-time carpet is cursed. Do the pupils just have ants in their pants or could there be something darker behind the mysterious itching? A funny and surprising collection of stories with a twist. I loved 'Wigglesbottom Primary' and can't wait for the next book. It's hilarious and I'm sure you'll love it too.

A funny and mischievous book which I would definitely recommend to my friends for a giggle.

These three stories (in one book) are really funny as it all about Class 2R and how they get up to mischief. My favourite story was 'The Stinky Shoe of Fortune' because I never knew how the shoe was telling the future. My favourite character is Ifran because even though the boys couldn't drink any water - because the toilet ghost would get them- Ifran couldn't hold back as his mouth was too spicy from the chicken curry lunch. These stories are fun and easy and quick to read - I finished the book in two days! I would definitely recommend it to my friends.

Daniel Harrison, age 8

This is a great book. I like this book because it is funny. It is funny because all the ideas are crazy.

It is about class 2R and their mad ideas for solving emergencies like they think that the boys' toilets are haunted and that Miles's left shoe can tell the future! The storytime carpet is cursed. I like this book because it is funny. It is funny because their ideas are crazy. Gavin Ross is the funniest character because he thought the toilet ghost was real in the first place. I think the book would be best for people a few months younger than me because it's a book that has coloured pictures in it. This is a good thing because there is more to look at.

Evie Aconley, age 8

A very funny entertaining three story in one book!

I loved this entertaining book, it's not just one story its three and they are all as good as each other. Hilarious and I could not put it down and I know everyone will love to read it as much as I did.

Elspeth Paterson, age 10

The three stories in 'The Toilet Ghost' are short but hilarious. Illustrated fantastically throughout, many words aren't always necessary. A must for all ages.

The silliest story is about a stinky shoe that can tell the future. Although it can get into youngsters heads that toilets are haunted, shoes can tell the future and carpets are cursed, so remember that!

I love the very beginning of the book where it has a big illustration of all the pupils and teacher naming them and giving you an idea of what they look like. It sets your imagination off to a good start. I would review this book 5\5 for imagination and description as well as simpler reasons.

Charlie Hopkins, age 7

The Toilet Ghost, The Stinky Shoe and the Itchy Carpet were way too much for: Roz, Hana, MR Harris, Miles, Miss Riley and a few others. BUT they were all very frightened.

[1] I like the spooky green colour of the illustrations that they used - it made it scarier.

[2] When Mr. Harris wet himself and had to wear small shorts that had flowers all over them was very funny!

I think it scored 9/10

Very good.

Leoni Williams, age 9

This book is very, very funny. It's three stories all in one book and they're all about funny things that happen in school.

In the first one the children think that there is a toilet ghost in the boy's toilet and the whole class goes a bit crazy and people nearly end up weeing themselves because they are too scared to go in there. And then all the boys run in the girls toilets which is funny because that's just gross. But the best bit is when the teacher has to wear clothes out of the spare clothes box and nothing ever really fits in there so he has to wear little flowery shorts!

The second story is about a boy who does a magic act with a magic shoe and tells people what will happen. This one is not as funny but still quite funny.

And the last one is about a girl who brings her ant farm to school and they all escape and everybody gets itchy bottoms and everybody goes a bit crazy again.

I really liked this book because funny things like this happen in school all the time with us so it's a bit like real life.

Charlotte Rosevear, age 11

Three short stories that tickled my funny bone.

The first story is about the toilet ghost.

The second story is about the stinky shoe of fortune

The last story is about the curse of the itchy carpet.

Laugh your socks off with class 2R!
